Northwest Weed Management Partnership Continues to Grow

In the few years of its existence the Northwest Weed Management Partnership (NWMP) has grown from an idea on paper to an active network of 111 partnering organizations in 15 Oregon and two Washington counties.

NWMP currently serves as an umbrella organization for five Cooperative Weed Management Areas and plans to establish the sixth one, the Columbia Gorge CWMA, later this year. It will extend from the Sandy River east to the Deschutes River and cover most of the Mt. Hood National Forest.

With the assistance of NWMP partnering organizations have provided three invasive weed identification and control workshops to the public; these were held in Corvallis, Newberg, and Forest Grove and they provided nearly 100 landowners with best management practices concerning invasive weed control and subsequent property restoration.
